

Module Three

Task: Practise leading the eye

Here's a sneak peek into my new book "Grandpa Loves You" published by Scholastic and out in time for Father's Day. After you have watched the instructional videos, study this illustration closely and see if you can spot the elements and principles you have learnt.

- What is the focal point?
- What are the nearby secondary subjects that add humour and interest?
- How does the placement of the elements in the composition lead the eye?
- What does the clothesline do and how does it add to the illustration and characters?
- How does this illustration make you feel?
- How important is the style I used and what does it contribute?
- How important is the medium I used and what does it contribute?
